ABSTRACT

There has been a sudden boom in the technical industry and an increase in the number of good startups. Keeping track of various appropriate job openings in top industry names has become increasingly troublesome. This leads to deadlines and hence important opportunities being missed. Through this research paper, the aim is to automate this process to eliminate this problem. The intention is to aggregate and recommend appropriate jobs to job seekers, especially in the engineering domain. The entire process of accessing numerous company websites hoping to find a relevant job opening listed on their career portals is simplified.

INTRODUCTION

Nowadays, job search is a task commonly done on the Internet using job search engine sites like LinkedIn, Indeed, and others. Commonly, a job seeker has two ways to search a job using these sites: 1) doing a query based on keywords related to the job vacancy that he/she is looking for, or 2) creating and/or updating a professional profile containing data related to his/her education, professional experience, professional skills and other, and receive personalized job recommendations based on this data. Sites providing support to the former case are more popular and have a simpler structure; however, their recommendations are less accurate than those of the sites using profile data. Personalized job recommendation sites implemented a variety of types of recommender systems, such as content-based filtering, collaborative filtering, knowledge-based and hybrid approaches. Moreover, most of these job recommender systems perform their suggestions based on the full profile of job seekers as well as by considering other data sources such as social networking activities, web search history, etc. Despite the fact that many data sources can be useful to improve the job recommendation, previous studies showed that the best person-job fit is possible when the personal skills of a job seeker match with the requirements of a job offer . Based on the person-job fit premise, we propose a framework for job recommendation based on professional skills of job seekers. We automatically extracted the skills from the job seeker profiles using a variety of text processing techniques. Therefore, we perform the job recommendation using TF-IDF and four different configurations of Word2vec over a dataset of job seeker profiles and job vacancies collected by us. Our experimental results show the performances of the evaluated methods and configurations and can be used as a guide to choose the most suitable method and configuration for job recommendation. The remainder of this paper is organized as follows. In Section 2, we briefly describe the natural language processing methods we are used in our experimental setup. In Section 3 we present our proposal, including a new dataset collected by us and the framework for job recommendation. In Section 4, we show our experimental results. Finally, in Section 5, we offer conclusions and directions for future work

1.2PURPOSE

To develop an end to end web application capable of displaying the current job openings based on the skillset of the users. The users and their information are stored in the Database. An alert is sent when there is an opening based on the user skillset. You do not need a market research to find out whether a customer is willing to purchase at a shop where they're getting maximum help in scouting the right product. They're also much more likely to return to such a shop in the future.

2.LITERATURE SURVEY

[1] Job Recommendation through Progression of Job Selection Authors: Aakash Roy, Amber Nigga and Haversian Wallis, Handcart Singh Published in: 2019 IEEE 6th International Conference on Cloud Computing and Intelligence Systems (CCIS) This paper introduces a novel laptop gaining knowledge of mannequin that accommodates the dynamics of a fairly volatile job market by using candidates' job preferences over time. Additionally, this method includes a range of smaller hints that aggravate the troubles with a) producing serendipitous recommendations. b) addressing the cold-start problem for new jobs and candidates. Skills are used as embedded aspects to derive latent capabilities from them, thereby increasing job and candidate capabilities to attain greater insurance in the ability domain. This mannequin was created and tested in a desirable job recommender system, and the fine feasible overall performance of the click-through price metric was accomplished through combining laptop getting to know and non-machine learning recommendations. The quality effects were acquired using Bidirectional Long Short-Term Memory Networks (Bi-LSTM) with Attention for recommending jobs via machine learning, which types a extensive portion of our recommendation. [2] CaPaR: A Career Path Recommendation Framework

Authors: Malinda Eirinaki, Bharat Patel, Varun Kakuste Published in: 2017 IEEE Third International Conference on Big Data Computing Service and Applications (BigDataService) Existing job suggestion structures only reflect consideration on the user's subject of pastime and omit the user's profile and skills, which should result in extra relevant career guidelines for users. CaPaR, a Career Path Recommendation framework, is proposed in this paper to address such shortcomings. The gadget scans the user's profile and resume, identifies the candidate's key skills, and generates customized job recommendations using textual content mining and collaborative filtering techniques.

Furthermore, the device suggests to student's extra competencies needed for related job openings, as nicely as learning assets for each skill. As a result, the gadget not only permits its customers to explore big quantities of information, but additionally to enlarge their portfolio and resume in order to enhance their careers. [3] Collaborative job prediction based on Naïve Bayes Classifier using python platform Authors: Savita Choudhary Siddanth Koul, Shridhar Mishra, Anunay Thakur, Rishabh Jain

Published in: 2016 International Conference on Computation System and Information Technology for Sustainable Solutions (CSITSS) The reason of this paper is to put in force a advice device for job portals based on collaborative filtering techniques. The machine is designed to recommend jobs to the consumer based on his profile and by means of calculating a similarity index between two skill units the use of Euclidean distance and then rating them the use of their naive Bayes algorithm. Python was once used to implement the suggestion system. [4] Generating Unified Candidate Skill

Graph for Career Path Recommendation Authors: Akshay Gughani, Karthikeyan Ponnalagu and Vinay Kumar

Reddy Kasireddy Published in: 2018 IEEE International Conference on Data Mining Workshops (ICDMW) Given the quantity of profession role statistics of individuals handy online, personalised profession route recommendation systems that should mine and advocate the most relevant profession paths for a consumer are on the rise. However, such advice systems usually are solely positive inside a single company the place there are standardized job roles. At an enterprise area level such as Information Technology or across such one of a kind enterprise sectors (such as retail, insurance, health care), mining and recommending the most applicable career paths for a user is still an unsolved lookup challenge. Towards addressing this problem, this paper proposes a machine that leverages the concept of competencies to construct talent graphs that can shape the foundation for profession path recommendations. Skills are perceived to be greater amenable for profession path standardizations across the organizations. The proposed device ingests a user's profile (in a pdf, phrase format or different public and shared data sources) and leverages an Open IE pipeline to extract education and experiences. Subsequently, the extracted entities are mapped as precise capabilities that are expressed in the form of a novel unified skill graph. Such ability graphs which capture both spatial and temporal relationships are believed to aid in producing specific profession path recommendations. An comparison of this modern ability extraction mannequin with an industrial scale dataset yielded a precision and recall of 80.54% and 86.44% respectively.

2.1 EXISTING PROBLEM

The traditional way to begin job search offline is to compile a list of companies that the job seeker would be interested in working for based on criteria such as field of interest, geographic location, size, etc.. . Job seekers can gather this data from offline resources such as newspaper advertisements, media articles, phone book directory listings and word of mouth. Job seekers develop a master resume which would be ideally tweaked according to the requirements of specific applications. Candidates who spend a lot of time researching the company and who can carefully align their personality, experiences, skills and education to the role in question will make their application far more appealing to a recruiter. The only way to get an interview is with a strong resume. Then the applicant must showcase his skillset and impress the hirers during the interview. They must not only showcase their skills but also their attitude and behaviour. They must keep themselves updated on the current developments in their industry . Recruiters must publicize their available job vacancies. This enables for them to receive application from candidates who match the skillset and requirements set by the company. Recruiters must also handle the process of applying for the job in a defined manner. If there was to be confusions there, then it would become a nightmare to organize it. After that, the applications are reviewed and only the most hopeful candidates are called for the interview process. The interview is conducted in a fair manner without any bias or personal feelings by the recruiters. Then the successful applicants are notified of their job confirmation. Then continues the process of discussing the salary, working hours, etc.. .

2.3 PROBLEM STATEMENT DEFINITION

There has been a sudden boom in the technical industry and an increase in the number of good startups. Keeping track of various appropriate job openings in top industry names has become increasingly troublesome. This leads to deadlines and hence important opportunities being missed. The intention is to aggregate and recommend appropriate jobs to job seekers, especially in the engineering domain. The entire process of accessing numerous company websites hoping to find a relevant job opening listed on their career portals is simplified. The proposed recommendation system is tested on an array of test cases with a fully functioning user interface in the form of a web application.

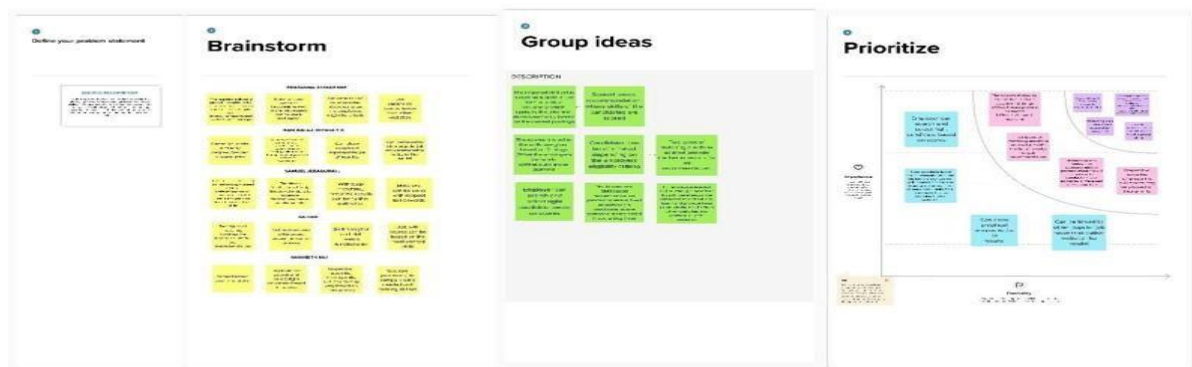

It has shown satisfactory results, outperforming the existing systems. It thus testifies to the agenda of quality over quantity.

3.IDEATION & PROPOSED SOLUTION

3.1Empathy Map & Canvas

3.2. IDEATION & BRAINSTORMING

3.3 PROPOSED SOLUTION

Project team shall fill the following information in proposed solution template.

S.No. Parameter

Description 1. Problem Statement (Problem to be solved) Do you have many skills but are you wondering which position is best for you? You don't have to worry. We have designed a skills recommendation solution through which the newest or most qualified person can log in and find the jobs using the search option or interact directly with the chatbot and get the job from her dreams. Develop an end-to-end web application capable of displaying current job vacancies based on user skills. The user and his information are stored in the database. An alert is sent when there is an opening based on the user's skills. Users will interact with the chatbot and can get recommendations based on their skills. We can use a job search API to retrieve current job openings on the market, which will pull the data directly from Website 2.

Idea / Solution description The contributions of this work are threefold: i) we make available to the public a new dataset made up of a set of job seeker profiles and a set of job offers collected on different job search engines ii) we present the proposal of a framework for job recommendation based on the professional skills of job seekers iii) carried out an assessment to empirically quantify the recommendation skills of two state-of-the-art methods, considering different configurations, within the proposed framework. Therefore, we present an overview of the job recommendation task with the aim of facilitating the research and design of real applications regarding this important topic.

3. Novelty / Uniqueness The best position is suggested to everyone according to their abilities. Although the position of known profiles is assumed, it must be taken into account that in general there are several recommendable positions corresponding to a set of skills. A recommender system should return a set of most likely positions, all of which may be equally valid. The recommendation method we use is simply based on representing positions and profiles as comparable vectors and finding the most similar positions for each profile.

4. Social Impact / Customer Satisfaction Students will benefit as they will know which job suits them based on their skills and therefore the absence of unemployment can reduce.

5. Business Model (Revenue Model) We may provide the application to job seekers on a subscription basis and we may share the profiles with companies and generate the income by providing them with the best profiles. 6. Scalability of the Solution Data can be scaled up and scaled down according to number of current job openings available.

4.REQUIREMENT ANALYSIS

4.1 FUNCTIONAL REQUIREMENT

Following are the functional requirements of the proposed solution. FR No. Functional Requirement(Epic) Sub Requirement (Story/Sub-Task) FR-1 User Registration ●Registration through Form ●Registration through Gmail ●Registration through LinkedIn FR-2 User Confirmation ●Confirmation via Email ●Confirmation via OTP FR-3 Admin dashboard ●A web portal allowing Admin to view and manage Applicants and Business persons to review company statistics. FR-4 Home Page ●The website 'Home Page' lists the company names and the vacancies. FR-5 Chat bot ●Resolves User queries.

4.2 NON - FUNCTIONAL REQUIREMENT

Following are the non-functional requirements of the proposed solution. FR No. Non-Functional Requirement Description

NFR-1 Usability ●Users can easily navigate the interface. ●With high usability, users can easily determine what a features and what It can do.

NFR-2 Security ●The security Section describes the need to control access to the data. This includes controlling who may view and alter application data.

NFR-3 Reliability ●The system must performwithoutfailurein95percentof use cases during a month.

NFR-4 Performance ●Response time for queries and updates ●Throughput ●Expected volume of data ●Expected volume of user activity (for example, number of transactions per hour ,day ,or month)

NFR-5 Availability ●The web dashboard must be available to users 99.98 percent of the time every month during business hours.

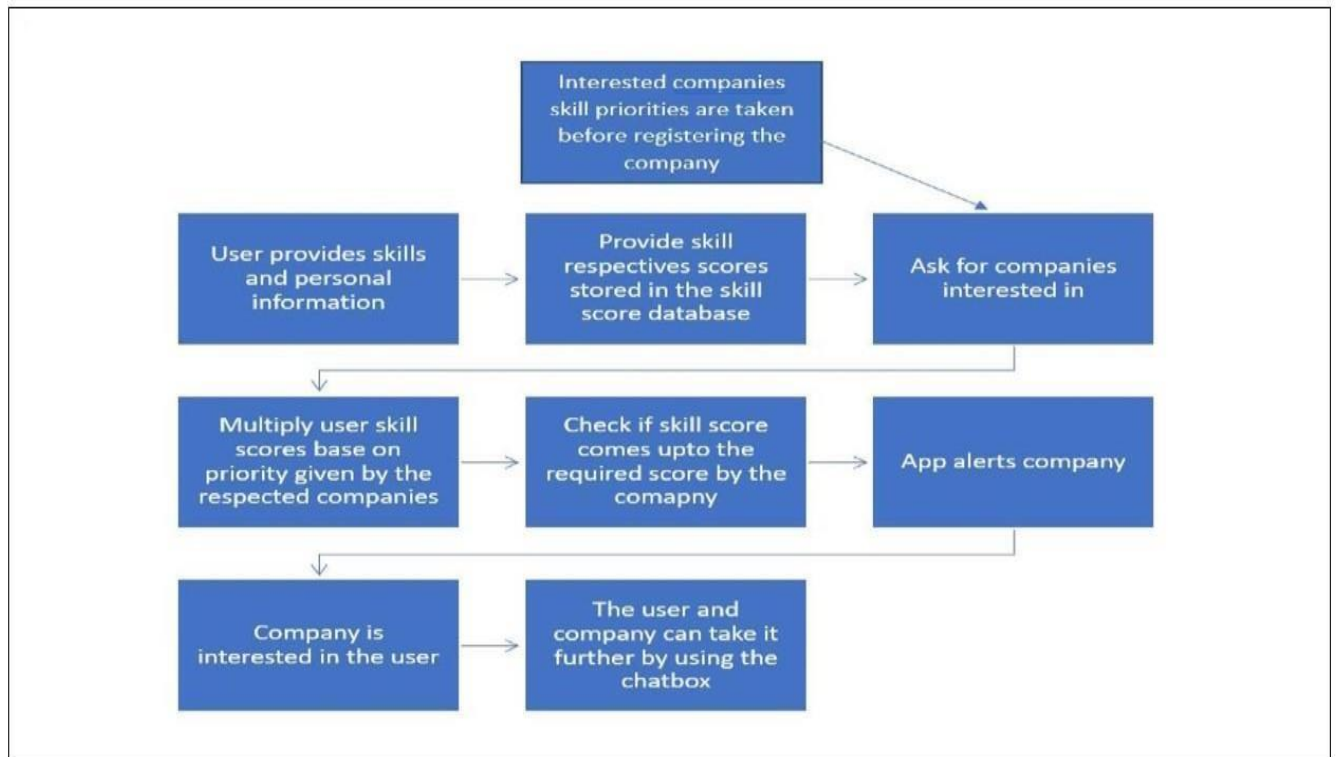

NFR-6 Scalability ●The inbuilt assessment feature can be added in the future to allow the users to demonstrate their knowledge of the skills they have added on their profile by completing assessments specific to those skills.

5.PROJECT DESIGN

5.1 DATA FLOW DIAGRAMS

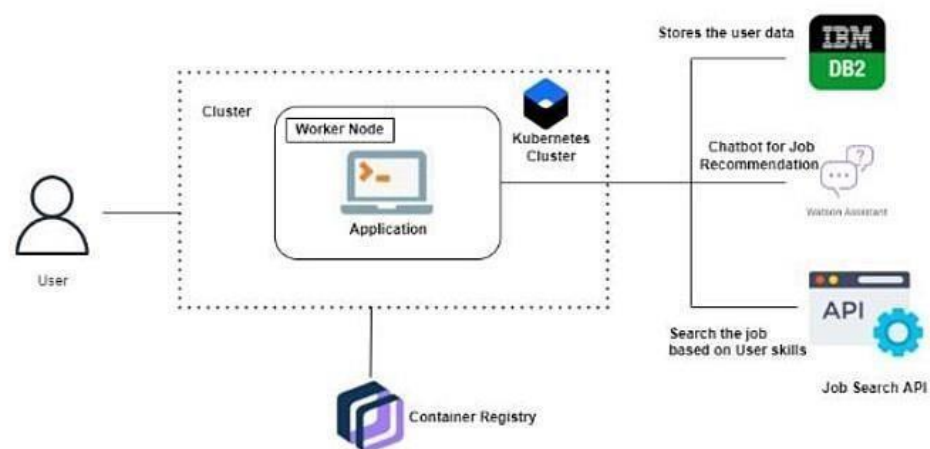

A Data Flow Diagram (DFD) is a traditional visual representation of the information flows within a system. A neat and clear DFD can depict the right amount of the system requirement graphically. It shows how data enters and leaves the system, what changes the information, and where data is stored. ● data flow diagram (DFD) is a graphical or visual representation using a standardized set of symbols and notations to describe a business's operations through data movement. They are often elements of a formal methodology such as Structured Systems Analysis and Design Method (SSADM).Data flow diagrams provide a straightforward, efficient way for organizations to understand, perfect, and implement new processes or systems. They're visual representations of your process or system, so they make it easy to understand and prune.In between our process and the external entities, there are data flows that show a brief description of the type of information exchanged between the entities and the system. In our example, the list of data flows includes: Customer Order, Receipt, Clothes Order, Receipt, Clothes Order, and Management Report.Logical DFD: Logical data flow diagram mainly focuses on the system process. It illustrates how data flows in the system. ...

- Physical DFD: Physical data flow diagram shows how the data flow is actually implemented in the system. Physical DFD is more specific and close to implementation.

architectural description of a specific solution. SAs combine guidance from different enterprise architecture viewpoints (business, information and technical), as well as from the enterprise solution architecture (ESA). Technical architecture includes the major components of the system, their relationships, and the contracts that define the interactions between the components. The goal of technical architects is to achieve all the business needs with an application that is optimized for both performance and security form of IT architecture that is used to design computer systems. It involves the development of a technical blueprint with regard to the arrangement, interaction, and interdependence of all elements so that system-relevant requirements are met. The solution architecture helps ensure that a new system will fit the existing enterprise environment. To perform this task, a solution architect has to understand how all parts of the business model work together including processes, operating systems, and application architectures.

6.PROJECT PLANNING & SCHEDULING

6.1 SPRINT PLANNING & ESTIMATION

Estimation is done by the entire team during Sprint Planning Meeting. The objective of the Estimation would be to consider the User Stories for the Sprint by Priority and by the Ability of the team to deliver during the Time Box of the Sprint.Sprint planning is an event in scrum that kicks off the sprint. The purpose of sprint planning is to define what can be delivered in the sprint and how that work will be achieved. Sprint planning is done in collaboration with the whole scrum team.

8.TESTING

In general, testing is finding out how well something works. In terms of human beings, testing tells what level of knowledge or skill has been acquired. In computer hardware and software development, testing is used at key checkpoints in the overall process to determine whether objectives are being met.

8.1 TEST CASES

8.2 USER ACCEPTANCE TESTING

User Acceptance Testing (UAT), which is performed on most UIT projects, sometimes called beta testing or end-user testing, is a phase of software development in which the software is tested in the "real world" by the intended audience or business representative.

9.RESULTS

The click-through rate (CTR) is a metric that measures how many people click on the recommendations. The basic notion is that if more people click on the recommended things, the recommendations are more relevant to them. In news recommendations, the CTR is a widely used metric

9.1 PERFORMANCE METRICS

The common way to assess the performance of a recommender system would be through standard metrics such as Accuracy, Precision or Recall [1,2]. However, these metrics require ground truth knowledge about which recommendations are correct, which is hard to obtain at a large scale in our specific problem setting

10. ADVANTAGES & DISADVANTAGES ADVANTAGES

The main aim of any recommendation engine is to stimulate demand and actively engage users. Primarily a component of an eCommerce personalization strategy, recommendation engines dynamically populate various products onto websites, apps, or emails, thus enhancing the customer experience.

DISADVANTAGES

- Significant investments required. ...
- Too many choices. ...
- The complex onboarding process. ...
- Lack of data analytics capability. ...
- The 'cold start' problem. ...
- Inability to capture changes in user behavior. ...
- Privacy concerns.
